Whiting

In 1896 when the first class graduated from the eighth grade those who wished to continue their education were obliged to attend the High Schools of neighboring towns. At that time the Whiting and East Chicago schools were under one superintendent, Mr. M. J. Woods and so East Chicago received the majority of the Whiting pupils.

The year 1898 marked a new era in the school history, for then it was decided that eight pupils attending the neighboring schools, formed a sufficient number to start a local High School, and for the first time Whiting had a school system of her own with Mrs. Florence B. Horman, who had previously been principal and grade teacher, as superintendent.

A large room and two recitation rooms were fitted up for work on the second floor of what is known as the Old High School Building and two new teachers were employed; Miss Maude E. Van Sickle as assistant principal and Miss Marguerite Ascher as teacher of German. These teachers, together with Mr. Robert L. Hughes, principal, and Miss Mabel F. Doty constituted the High School faculty of 1898. the larger room was used as an assembly for the High School and for the seventh and eighth grades as well. An alcove off this assembly was fitted with book cases and a reading table, while books and periodicals were added from time to time. And finally a science room was furnished with the necessary tables and apparatus and a piano was placed in the assembly room. The work in the High School had been planned to meet the requirements both of the pupil who would quit at the end of the course and he who would enter a university or college. In order to complete the course which was four years, the pupil had to earn thirty-two credits. English was a requirement but all other subjects were elective. Four studies were all that any pupil was allowed to carry at one time and this rule still holds (as of 1913) with the exception of those who have won the honor mark of "W" which signifies an average of 90% in all their studies with no grade below 85%. Two literary societies were organized and healthy rivalry held sway.

In this first year there were no graduates, but there were four juniors, three sophomores and one freshman. Their commencement Exercises were held at Goebel's opera house, June 14, 1900. This was attended by all the citizens of whom Whiting could boast.

In 1900 Mr. Hughes became superintendent and John C. Hall was elected principal. The graduating class of 1901 consisted of only three members and the year following there was but one graduate. During the next year Mr. Hall was made superintendent to fill the vacancy left by Mr. Hughes and Mr. Schacht came to serve as principal, the following two years. Other new departments of study were added to the curriculum, among which were Manual-Training, and a business course, both of which necessitated new teachers. In 1906 at Mr. Schacht's resignation, Mr. Holliday was employed in his place.

This article was written by Hazel Long from the 1913 Whiting High School Yearbook.

History and Members of the High School Orchestra by Robert Bruce

The Crown Point High School Orchestra was organized in the fall of 1914 by Mr. Peterson, a Chicago musician, who was recommended by Madam Schlissmann, the violin teacher.

While a large number of the pupils had taken lessons on various instruments, we had had very little experience in playing ensemble until this work was taken up.

At first there were twenty-five or thirty members, the majority being boys. We met each Thursday morning in the Assembly room, and practiced from 8 until 8:45.

The selections were, for the most part, a simple arrangement of the high grade music. Within the year several of the players dropped out, but on special occasions such as high school entertainments, we made a good showing with fifteen or twenty instruments all ready for the signal to start.

The next fall, because of the apparent lack of interest, Mr. Peterson quit coming to Crown Point. Mr. George Smith had charge of the orchestra for a while and finally Miss Viant acted as leader for the remainder of the year.

Besides those in High School a few students from the Grammar School became members of the orchestra and assisted at literary meetings and other school events when music was a part of the program.

At the opening of the 1915-16 term of school, Miss Hanks took up the leadership of the orchestra. The music played is a mixture of the popular and classical selections and on one occasion when we made a trip to Palmer, we were highly complimented and asked to return.

With the proceeds from this even we bought new music which we have been practicing diligently, and some of it we rendered publicly for the first time on our second visit to Palmer. This was a very jolly trip, and we will long remember our good time there, and the fine refreshments eaten on the way home.

At times it has been difficult to keep up the proper interest but it is certain that there has been great improvement in the playing. With the faithful members now belonging, and if other good workers are added we hope and expect the Crown Point High School Orchestra to do greater things in the future.

The members of the orchestra at present, and their instruments are as follows:

1st Violin:	Lester Westerman
	Ila Smith
	Robert Bruce

2nd Violin: Edwin Hirtzel
Cecil Crowell
Edwin Elting

Clarinet: Victor Nichols
Leslie Einswiler

Cornets: Louise Crawford
Arthur Claussen
Amos Allman

Tuba: Sam Newton

Drums: Earl Smith

Piano: Hazel Kilborn

Director: Miss Hanks
